Welcome to December! But is it really December? As I write this message to you, the rain is pouring down, and quite honestly, I don't think our grass has looked so green in months! This mild weather has been just a gift, in so many different ways. Specifically, I find that my students haven't hit that "wall" of winter. Their energy is still high and their focus is still strong – THIS in itself, well, I am saying "thank you"!

Since you last heard from me in November, things are continuing to move along wonderfully within our Ottawa Region Branch.

The list of participating teachers and students for the NAC Family Adventure's TUNETOWN pre-concert activities has been filling up and we have a good variety between piano, violin, flute and cello, although piano is the primary instrument at the moment. There are a few spaces left and I would really love to see some voice students – classical or musical theatre. I think it is so important for the families of Ottawa to know that ORMTA does not "just" represent piano and "just" classical studies. If you have any questions or are interested in having your students participate, please contact me (olivia@myc.com). I am requesting a deadline of December 15th, 2015 to ensure that we have everything (and everyone) in place before the Christmas holidays.

And, as I hope you know, during these performances, our Ottawa Region Branch has the opportunity to have an information table. Although I don't need many volunteers for this (and, of course, I will be there), we do need a few more teachers who are willing to help. If you want to help but are nervous about knowing what to say, again, please feel free to contact me directly to ask any questions.

Our other partnership with Ottawa Pianos is continuing to bring energy and excitement. I just met with Carmen Papalia this week and I have to say, the audition room at Ottawa Pianos is fabulous!!! What a quality room with an amazing 9-foot concert grand piano. During our conversation, it was continually confirmed that Ottawa Pianos is here for YOU, our members, and out students. This priceless partnership just solidifies, in my mind, that we are a perfect fit – working and striving towards professionalism, high quality and excellence.

As we have said goodbye to November, I hope and trust that you have taken part in the events and activities that our council works ever so hard on. Thank you again to Paulette Price for the fabulous and informative Information Sharing Session. There is not another one lined up at this time; however, if there is a topic of interest that you wish to suggest, please let me know.

Congratulations and a big thank you to Tania Granata for her endless and tireless work with Canada Music Week. As always, you set the level, Tania! Thank you for your dedication for bringing Canadian music to our students, teachers and ears.

Just a reminder that there are a few key deadlines in December that I am sure you do not want to miss! Please check the Calendar of Events for dates and contact information.

Until next time,
 Olivia Riddell

Information Sharing Session, November 9th

by Paulette Price, Convenor

Nine members met for a lively discussion session to share ideas on how to help students to practice more effectively. One teacher described ways that she rewards practice achievements with a point chart that leads to small prizes. Another described her annual studio competition, where students work independently on a particular project (ear training, sight reading, etc) for a period of time until an outside teacher is brought in to judge their accomplishments. The prizes definitely spur on the practicing!

Teachers described how they search for new ways to talk with their students to encourage them to become more observant of what they see and hear. Many stressed that students could impress them sometimes, but finding the best way to inspire each student to practice well and think independently is a challenge. It was wonderful to see the care and thought that teachers put into their approach to suit each student's personality and stage of development. Some very intriguing parallels were shared, for instance, why is practicing piano like being a firefighter? What do volleyball hands have to do with technique?

Also discussed were ways of increasing awareness of the many types of work that students are doing when they practice – to become more aware of the roles that their mind can play, for instance the role of the poet, the mechanic, the project manager, the drill sergeant, the conductor, the inspector for detail. Learning to shift roles can increase focus and can help keep practicing fresh.

It was a pleasure to discuss this topic with such wise and creative colleagues!

Canada Music Week

by Tania Granata, Convenor

Sunday November 22nd marked the branch's Canada Music Week recital at the Orleans United Church. Forty plus students performed works by Canadian composers and even featured the music by local composers Christine Donkin and Claudia Cashin-Mack. The concert was very well attended and the audience enjoyed piano solos, piano duets, voice performances and also one violinist.

As part of ORMTA Ottawa's partnership with Ottawa Piano's, store manager Carmen Papalia attended the concert as a special guest.

Once the recital was finished, students were presented with certificates of participation as well as beautifully baked and decorated Canada Music Week cupcakes made by ORMTA Ottawa teacher and council member Danielle Jersak. Following the concert, guests were able to enjoy a lovely reception. Special thanks go out to council members Danielle Jersak, Meg Iwaskow and all the other people who helped make the event a huge success.

Adult Students' Piano Workshop & Master Class

by Ioulia Brechun, Convenor

Robert Dvorkin will be our clinician for the 2016 Piano Workshop and Master Class, to be held on Saturday, February 27, 2016 at 9:30 at Ottawa Pianos, 1412 Bank Street.

Robert began piano lessons at the age of nine, and two years later was accepted in the studio of Ernesto Lejano of the University of Alberta, with whom he studied for the next six years. In 1974, Robert entered the Bachelor of Music program at Indiana University in the studio of György Sebök. Robert obtained a Master of Music degree in Piano Performance, studying with Enrica Cavallo-Gulli. He lived in New York City for many years, and performed and taught in both the United States and Canada. In 1999, he was inspired by the work of Dorothy Taubman and began an intensive study of her approach. His expertise in the Taubman Approach has benefited many students of all levels. He moved to Ottawa in 2014 where he maintains an active teaching studio. He continues to perform in many cities in the United States and Canada. For more information, please visit www.robertdvorkin.com.

The Piano Workshop will include the Taubman Approach, which is a codified set of technical principles that, when correctly applied, can result in a near-tension-free playing experience, and can lead the way to a virtuoso technique. Students who experience tension, awkwardness, and/or pain while playing report that the Approach vastly improves their ability to produce sound, play without pain, sight-read better, learn more quickly, and myriad other benefits.

The Workshop will be followed by a Master Class for six performers. Applicants will be chosen on a "first-come, first-served" basis. Please submit your completed applications as soon as possible. Due to limited space in the Master Class, we are also offering a Practice Performance Evaluation for additional students who wish to play in the Recital on March 19, 2016 at City View United Church. The Practice Performance is a chance to play for peers and to receive comments and suggestions from Mr. Dvorkin.

Please go to our website www.ormtaottawa.ca for registration form and further information, or contact Ioulia Brechun at medbeach@yahoo.ca

The Twelve Days of Christmas

The best known English version was first printed in English in 1780 in a little book intended for children, Mirth without Mischief, as a Twelfth Night "memories-and-forfeits" game, in which a leader recited a verse, each of the players repeated the verse, the leader added another verse, and so on until one of the players made a mistake, with the player who erred having to pay a penalty, such as offering up a kiss or a sweet. In Scotland, early in the 19th century, the recitation began: "The king sent his lady on the first Yule day, I A poppingo-aye [parrot]; I Wha learns my carol and carries it away?" The succeeding gifts were two partridges, three plovers, a goose that was grey, three starlings, three goldspinks, a bull that was brown, three ducks a-merry laying, three swans a-merry swimming, an Arabian baboon, three hinds a-merry hunting, three maids a-merry dancing, three stalks o' merry corn. -Wikipedia
